

Homework

For 8th November

Multiplication facts

This week, we have been looking at multiplication and division. Being able to quickly recall multiplication facts will really help with these operations.

For your homework this week, I have set a challenge and a competition on Sumdog that requires you to recall multiplication facts. I would like you to complete these please.

Do you think you have a great recall of multiplication facts? Do you recognise them in divisions? Can you improve? Change your settings to times tables and keep practising. The better you are, the easier multiplication and division will be.

Comments

Date set: Friday 3rd November 2017
November 2017

Date of test: Wednesday 8th

My score today out of 10	Mr Board's Star Words: immediate definite
The words I still need to learn I have circled below: past, passed, proceed, precede, aisle, isle, aloud, allowed, affect, effect

The spelling pattern for this week is:

Words with silent 'b,' 'n' or 'k'

Common examples of words with this spelling pattern include:

doubt
thumb solemn column
knuckle

What words can you find with this spelling pattern? If you can find some over the week – come and write them on our Spelling Spot in the classroom for others to see and learn from.

Star words will be:

explain
persuade

Literacy

For your Literacy this week, I would like you to read some mystery or suspense. This could be from your own books or stories that you find online. You could take a trip to the library and find some books there.

Look for sentences that create an atmosphere of suspense. Write them down with a brief description of what devices the author used to create suspense.

Literacy

For your Literacy this week, I would like you to read some mystery or suspense. This could be from your own books or stories that you find online. You could take a trip to the library and find some books there.

Look for sentences that create an atmosphere of suspense. Write them down with a brief description of what devices the author used to create suspense.

Literacy

For your Literacy this week, I would like you to read some mystery or suspense. This could be from your own books or stories that you find online. You could take a trip to the library and find some books there.

Look for sentences that create an atmosphere of suspense. Write them down with a brief description of what devices the author used to create suspense.