Weekly Newsletter 10th June 2016

Dear Parents,

Our new Deputy Headteacher, Mr Copping will be attending transition day on the 23rd June and will also be in school on the 24th where he will attend the coffee morning with me. This will be an opportunity for any parents that attend to meet him and join in the friendly discussions as normal. Mr Copping will also be attending parents evening on both nights (hopefully) where he will be in school again to meet with parents and pupils.

Before half term I talked to all of the pupils about the importance of school uniform and smart presentation. Many of our pupils follow the dress code without reservation however there had been a few instances recently of trainers and nail varnish! I was delighted to see this week that this had improved significantly however please be aware trainers are not school uniform and pupils attending school in trainers without agreement from staff will be asked to wear plimsolls whilst in school. Also any pupil wearing nail varnish will be provided with remover and will be asked to remove it whilst in school. I trust you will support us fully in our desire to have the excellent presentation of all our pupils and should anyone have any problems with meeting the expectations please do come and see me to see if we can find a solution together.

Next week we have Sports Day on Thursday afternoon. This is always a lovely event with everyone fully participating and enjoying the afternoon - weather permitting! I do hope to see you there.

Regards

Mrs Quinn
