

This Week:

We have been thinking about Winter this week. We came up with a list of things we already knew about it and a list of what we wanted to find out.

We really enjoyed breaking and smashing the ice that formed in our outside area and we also enjoyed making our own ice sculptures. We made them with water, objects and glitter and then dangled a piece of string in them. In the morning we noticed they had frozen so we hung them up and watched what happened to them during the day. They were very pretty while they lasted, take a look on the website soon to see pictures of them.

In Maths we have started to think about doubles. We found out that we could double 1-5 using our hands but when doubling numbers 6-10 we needed a friend to help us as we don't have enough fingers to do it on our own.

The sounds we have learnt in phonics were 'zz' and 'qu' and the tricky words we learnt were 'you' and 'are'. We have also been singing the alphabet song and

Next Week:

Chinese New Year starts this Saturday so we will be learning all about China and how they celebrate Chinese New Year. We will be learning some Chinese, trying some Chinese food, having a go at some Chinese writing as well as much more.
